Define a chain as two or more links. Two people start the game as the initial chain. This is the minimum amount of people in a chain. They hold hands/lock arms and attempt to tag people within the boundaries. The person they tag joins the chain by linking hands with the chain. When the chain has 4 or more people, that chain can split. The chain can stay split or can link together at will. However, the split can only happen when there is more than 4 people in the chain. This game is played till all are caught.
